To Probe Disaster

Investigations Begun for Placing Blame for Boat Collision

Investigation has been started for the purpose of placing the blame for the collision between the government launch Wenona and the steamer James Moren, in which the launch was sunk and James W. Dickey, an engineer was drowned at Davis Island lock. The crew of the James Moren made a statement yesterday. It is said that the towboat was under a half head of steam pushing a string of empties up stream. The pilot claims he saw the Wenana start out, stop suddenly and begin backing. He claims that when the launch was about 10 feet from the tow, three sharp whistles were sounded and that he signalled to shut off the power of the big tow boat, which was done.

CHARGE IS GIVEN TO NEW PASTOR

Rev. John R. Burson Installed at Washington Avenue Presbyterian

REV. HARRIS PRESIDES

Vows were taken by pastor and people to stand by each other and help each other Thursday evening when Rev. John R. Burson, late of the Old Concord Presbyterian church was installed pastor of the Washington Avenue Chuch. The rites of instllation were impressive. Dr. John Royal Harris, of the Shady Avenue Presbyterian church of Pittsburg was the presiding officer and master of ceremonies, and he propounded the necessary questions to both pastor and congregation.

Rev. John T. Hackett, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Charleroi delivered the charge to the pastor. On behalf of the Pittsburg Presbytery, of which Rev. Burson was becoming a member he told him to "be constant in season and out of season," and to try to please God rather than the people. He said he believed it was the pastor's duty to reprove and rebuke when his congregation or members of his congregation had gone astray. In concluding his charge he tendered Rev. Burson a hearty welcome here.

Rev. W. F. McKee, pastor of the Monongahela Presbyterian church, gave the charge to the people. He advised the congregation to regard the pastor as a man and a human being. "Don't expect too much of him," he concluded. "Do not compliment unwisely. Talk up among your townspeople and among the congregation and what is fully as important, pay him up."

Rev. J. E. Garvin, pastor of the Herron Avenue Presbyterian church of Pittsburg preached the sermon of installation, taking as his theme "The Transformed Life." He treated the

MONONGAHELA RIVER POLLUTED WITH ACID

Government Man Finds This River the Worst Among Ten in State

According to Col. Thomas P. Roberts, a government engineer and assistant to Col. H. C. Newcomer, as superintendent of navigation along the Monongahela river the last named river is the worst among ten rivers of the state with respect to acid conditions. He ctates that 64 1-2 tons of free sulphuric acid passes a certain point in the Monongahela a day. The larger quantity of this comes from mine drainage but mills along the stream added their quoto to the whole. Into 10 of the leading rivers of the State there are 970,000 tons of sulphuric acid discharged a year.

It has been suggested that an effort be made to neutralize the acid by the use of lime or some other cheaper neutralizing agent, but it is not believed that this would be effective, and the cost would be great. Opinions on the matter were brought out at a meeting of engineers at Pittsburg on Tuesday. It is hoped that the time is not far distant when some method of saving the waste acid for use as a by-product can be put into use. It is this acid that is killing the fish and doing so much injury to steam boilers and water pipes where the river water is used.

MORE RAIN AT PHILADELPHIA SPOILS GAME

There is more idleness among the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics at Philadelphia today, owing to a long continued rain. Matthewson and Bender were picked for today's battle and a hot engagement was anticipated. This couple will probably oppose each other the next game. It is whispered among followers of the game that the rain was a god send to the New York team, whose sole dependence and hopes rest practically rest on Matthewson.

SIR WALTER RALEIGH ACT IS OUTDONE

Future Greats Chivalrous to Extreme Despite General Perverseness of Humans

American hustle and the general perverseness of the big, wicked world has gone far towards degenerating mankind, and the younger generation for instance those of a High School age—are showing more marks of degenration than their fathers. But in the case of the said High School youths the extreme of politeness was attained this morning, when the chivalrous young financiers, capitalists and politicians of the future made a tour of the town and collected the books of those of the weaker sex who daily wend their way to the Fifth street institution of learning, and toted them up the hill. Either the teachers or somebody else had informed those future greats that they were uterly lacking in the fine essentials of politeness. Hence the Sir Walter Raleigh performances.

PITT READY FOR HOT STRUGGLE WITH INDIANS

The University of Pittsburg football team, which last year made the remarkable record of scoring 268 points against apponents in nine games without having a single point scored against it, has emerged from the two minor games in splendid trim and is now ready for the season's hard battles. The first of these comes Saturday when the famous Carlisle Indians are played at Forbes Field. The kick-off will be at 3 o'clock. The university athletic management is arranging to accomodate 10,000 spectators at this game, as the Redman, noted as the trickiest exponents of the gridiron game in the country, always are a big attraction in the Steel City.

The Indians did not play the University of Pittsburg last year but in 1909 they were defeated by the Blue and Gold 17—3 in one of the most spectacular battles ever played at Forbes Field. This was the start of Pott's climb to the front of college football circles. Since then, the local teams has been credited with some wonderful performances, ending up with the glorious 11—0 victory over Penn State last Thanksgiviing Day.

Although Pittsburg lost five men by graduation, the new material this year is very classy and all the holes have been filled up satisfactorily.

"Tillie" Dewar of California regarded as one of her products, is a mainstay of the University of Pittsburg team at quarter-back. Another player who is known here is Wagner, the big fullback. Many faces on the University of Pittsburg team are familiar to local people, who constitute a band of loyal supporters to the Pittsburg team.

John Carson was a Pittsburg visitor today.

TWO COMPANIES SEEKING FRANCHISES FOR LINES

Monongahela Agitated Over Move Made by Rival Concerns

PROPOSITIONS HEARD

Ordinances Sought Through City--Bentleyville to be an Objective Point

Monongahela is somewhat agitated over the street car line franchise proposition, which is a public question there just now. Two lines, the Monongahela, Ellsworth & Washington company, and the Pittsburg, Monongahela & Washington Street Railway company, are asking for rights of way through the town for proposed lines up Pigeon creek. For a part of the route the lines would be practically parallel, as far as Bentleyville, but after that point is reached the former company divergees on its route to Washington by way of Scenery Hill, while the other goes by way of Ellsworth and Marianna to the county seat.

Both propositions are considered favorably by the people of Monongahela, and both came before select council Thursday night asking for franchise ordinances. The Monongahela, Ellsworth & Washington company's ordinance had already passed common council and was passed by select council Thursday night. The Pittsburg, Monongahela & Washington Street Railway company's proposition, however, was referred back to the ordinance committee with instructions to prepare a proper ordinance and report back to council, which wil probably be done at the meeting on November 14.

At different times these companies have had franchises which have been permitted to lapse, but as both now offer to guarantee the construction of the lines if they are granted franchises, the disposition of the people is to have council tie them up so that they will be liable and grant them the franchise. This is the teritory which it is hoped the Westside Electric Street Railway company of Charleroi will soon invade, and if it is done the other lines to Washington will afford excellent connections.

Rally Held by League

Methodist Episcopal Women Hear Talks by Visiting Church Workers

The Women's League of the Methodist Episcopal church held a rally Thursday afternoon in the lecture room of the church. A large proportion of the members were present Mrs. I. T. Daniel rendered two vocal solos and Mrs. J. H. Miller, wife of the district superintendent of the Washington district, Pitsburg conference, made a talk. Dr. Miller also made an address. A social hour at which time refreshments were served concluded the affair.

During the year ending September 30, the League has paid on the Building Fund $60 and Thursday it voted to pay $100 more. In the evening Dr. Miller preached an eloquent sermon to a good audience on the topic: "Prosperity of the Church." After the sermon the first quarterly conference was held Reports showed that the financial condition of the church was very encouraging. During the last conference year which was just closed, nearly $500 was given to benevolent objects and $1,100 was placed in the building fund.

COAL ASSESSMENTS.

In its efforts to create campaign thunder for the purpose of trying to defeat the Republican ticket at the November election, the Washington Observer lays stress on assessments of the coal holdings in the county, which it declares to be too low in proportion to the assessments of other property, particularly houses and lots and farms. The Observer would make it appear that rank discrimination had been made in favor of large corporate holdings to the detriment and burden of the small property owner. By comparing the assessment per acre of coal lands with their potential value, the Observer seems to make it appear that the big concern is getting off with a light taxation while the small property owner is being mulct.

In assessing big holdings of coal lands which have been bought for future use and conservation by industrial corporations, a middle ground is usually adopted in determining values between "what is, and what may be in the future." The value of coal lands to certain individuals is determined by its potentiality, rather than its present worth. Big prices are paid now for coal holdings in certain locations, along the river front for example, not so much for what the coal is worth now as what it will be in the future, when the operator is ready to use it. As it is now it is if lying idle an unproductive, worth absolutely nothing to the holder, as he is not getting any production from it. The chances are that it is a burden, as in all likelihood the holder is paying interest on the money used to purchase it, while the property itself lies unproductive.

If this were taxed up to its potential value, which determined the purchase price, the chances are that it would not be purchased at all and industries that hope to increase their operations could not prepare for future developments. The original holder could not afford to hold it either, and the result would be in the direction of what Henry George hoped to achieve by his single tax theory—to tax land to its full value, so high that the holder would have to throw it back to the State if he could not make it productive. As there are too many coal mines now in operation and many of them losing money, the private holder of a hundred acre tract of unsold coal taxed to the limit of its potential value, would prove a burden he could not carry, as he could not mine and sell his coal where there is not sufficient market for all that is now mined.

While the law literally specifies that property shall be assessed at its full value, the latter term is capable of a wide interpretation. A piece of property may have a high value to one person, a low value to another, and none at all to still others. A rational middle ground has to be chosen, which is done everywhere. In doing this many errors are no doubt made, the same as in every other material operation in existence. With a low assessment the tax levying powers cannot spend so much money as they could with a high assessment which in view of the judgment ordinarily exercised in this respect is better public policy than going the limit the other way.

GOOD PUBLIC POLICY

Should Governor John K. Tener see fit to call an extra session of the Legislature for the purpose of enacting certain measures, there are good and sufficient reasons for doing so. These reasons are many, but the chief one is that something constructive is usually accomplished at a special session, whereas the bulk of the time of the regular session is frittered away with very little beneficial results in proportion to the time and money expended. The special session in 1906 in Governor Pennypacker's administration, was productive of more constructive legislation than had been enacted in a decade or more previously.

In a special session called for a certain purpose, the onus is upon the Legislators if the object fails. They are directly responsible to the people, and cannot shift the responsibility. They are there to act in but one way, and if they fail, they go on record as opposed to public policy. In the regular session it is different. Most of the Legislators go there to make a personal record, and to trade and block in order to attain their ends The result is that very little is accomplished for the people. The special session is the only way to get a needed public measure through quickly, and if Governor Tener sees fit to call a special session to achieve a needed public end, he has full warrant to do so, and is performing a public service besides.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"You notice that none of the first-class films of moving pictures ever show death scenes in accidents," said Harry Barnhart of the Palace Theatre, in speaking of the character of the pictures put out by the best manufacturers in that line. "Of course they all make sensational and melodramic scenes, but care is now being taken not to present anything that will teach or instruct the audience in vicious ways.

"If you take notice you will see that the best pictures now do not give lessons in burglary. If a picture is presented in which a burglar figures the picture does not show how he effected an entrance. For instance, the burglar may be shown aproaching a window, and then the scene changes suddenly and shows him inside. This is done to avoid inspiring boys or any one else in the audience to make similar attempts because of the apparent ease in which such things are done in pictures. Real death scenes are also carefully eliminated, where a moving picture camera happens to catch an accident in which people are killed, in an automobile race or an aeroplane flight.

"There has been a marked improvement right along in the character of the photoplays by the best makers of films, and the standard is constantly improving. Formerly efforts were made to cater to the morbid curiosity of people and all sorts of gruesome scenes were presented such as hangings, torture scenes and other harrowing experiences. Now the tendency is to present clean, wholesome plays, which of course attracts the better element of people."

A traveling man at one of the local hotels the other night tells how he once got broke while out on the road for a prominent Pittsburg wholesale house.

"I was the 'cub' drummer of the house," he said. "and every one there thought it their bounden duty to 'kid' me or pull one over on me whenever they could. In my dilemma I telegraphed to the manager this message:

"'Expense money all gone. How shall I act?'

'Back came this mesage, which I afterwards learned was sent by one of the younger assistants:

"'Act as if you were broke.'"

Rev. J. E. Charles, pastor of the French Presbyterian church offered the prayer of installation. Rev. Harris propounded the questions to the pastor, and congregation and received their promises to faithfully labor together for the best interests of the church, then constituted on behalf of the Pittsburg Presbytery Rev Burson as pastor.

Rev. Burson came to Charleroi the first of September. Rev. G. G. Kerr was the former pastor of the Washington avenue church. Rev Burson was pastor of the Old Concord Presbyterian church for almost 11 years. He is a graduate of Waynesburg College and of Cumberland University in Tennessee. He took a course in the Moody Bible Institute at Chicago and did missionary work in the latter city for some time. Rev. Burson begins his work here under very happy auspices and the outlook is very encouraging for a successful pastorate.

A BALD-HEADED WOMAD

Shorn of Her Crown of Beauty, Loses in Love and Marriage.

Hair is certainly most necessary to women. Who could love and marry a bald-headed woman? What charms could one array to offset such a disfigurement?

A woman's goal is usually love and marriage. Her crowning glory is her hair. The loss of her hair mars her beauty, happiness and success. Yet right here in Charleroi there are thousands of women who are neglecting or injuring their hair to such an extent that it is only a matter of time when it will be utterly ruined.

Many women destroy the beauty of their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They use curling irons over-heated or to excess which destroys the natural oil of the hair, causing it to split, break and come out. They do not shampoo their hair often enough or too often. They use soaps or preparations which contain ingredients positively harmful to the scalp and hair.

As a result of such treatment, dandruff is created, the hair loosens, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences, unless proper and prompt precautions are taken in time. Then again, microbes and certain diseases bring about unhealthy scalp and hair conditions.

Almost any woman may rid herself of dandruff and diseased scalp and hair if she will but use the right remedy. We have that remedy and we will positively guarantee that it will either cure dandruff and baldness or it will not cost the user anything.

That's a pretty broad statement, but we will back it and prove it with our own money. We will return your money if you do not find that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is an entirely satisfactory remedy that will promote hair growth and overcome scalp and hair troubles, that it will grow hair even on bald heads, unless all life in the hair roots has been extinguished, the follicles closed, and the scalp is glazed and shiny. It gets its name from the fact that it grew hair in 93 out of 100 cases, where it received a thoroughly hard, impartial and practical test.

We want you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic at our risk. You surely cannot lose anything by doing so, while you have everything to gain. You had better think this over, and then come in and see us about this offer. You will be well repaid for your visit to our store. Remember, you can get Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. Carroll's Drug Store, 623 Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi.

PARIS LIKES WHITE CANARY

New Songbird Is Most Popular in the Gay Capital and Fetches High Price.

The Parisian has an amiable little weakness for the canary. Every street echoes to the song of this noisy bird, and in the holiday time, when families are away, there are concierges whose more or less restricted quarters are positively cumbered with cages of canaries left in their charge by absent tenants.

But in or out of the season the bird market is held every Sunday in the year in the City Island and a lively trade in canaries is always done. The best songsters in the market come from an old house close by the market, where lives an ornithologist who spends his life in teaching canaries to sing, and he has now, after some years of effort, produced a pure white canary with a song as powerful and sweet as any yellow or green bird ever sold.

The supply of the white canary being at present strictly limited, those that were sold last Sunday fetched comparatively high prices; but they had all the honors of the day, and for the few hours that they adorned the stall they were the center of an admiring and wondering crowd. There are plenty of canaries that are nearly white, but this bird is as white as a dove without any speck of yellow on it.

The Parisian has his own special way of transporting his canaries to the cage that awaits them at his home. The bird is placed in a small paper bag and pinned to the lapel of his coat. —Paris Correspondence London Standard.

Materially Inclined.

There is no landscape in the world that is agreeable after two days of rusty bacon and slack biscuit. "How lovely this would be," exclaimed the professor, "if it had a background of beefsteak and coffee!"—Charles Dudley Warner.

Critical Sense.

"That youngest son of Bliggins seems to have the making of a true musician in him." "Does he sing or play?" "No. But he cries piteously when Bliggins tries to."

Self-Confidence and Bluff.

Self-confidence is usually about 99 per cent bluff.—Atchison Globe.

LIVERY STABLE STOCK IN VENICE!

IF a man of ordinary intelligence were approached by an affable stranger and urged to buy stock in a livery stable in Venice, he would in all likelihood feel insulted. He would have reason to be, for such an offer would be a reflection on his intelligence.

It is along lines like this that some business men advertise.

For instance: A clothier has a line of suits near the end of the season that he desires to close out. He advertises them at a sharp reduction. Compared with what he paid for them and what he sold them for at the opening of the season, they are a bargain. The public does not want the suits at that particular time at any price, and the clothier, not getting the results, makes a deduction that advertising doesn't pay, and ceases to advertise.

In the meantime the big department store in the nearest city is flooding the newspapers with cuts and descriptions of nifty ties, collars, marked down shirts that are good at any time, seasonable underwear at special prices that is needed to fill in between times.

The local dealer is disappointed because people won't buy stock in a livery stable in Venice; and loses the sale of other stocks that might be practicable.

The department store in the city gets the trade because it knows that the ordinary person has no use for something he does not need at that particular time.

The business man who never gets advertising to produce results are the Micawbers of trade—always waiting for something to turn up. The man who knows how to advertise, and tries to sell the people something they want, WHEN THEY WANT IT and not to unload what he doesn't want—turns something up.

Clergyman's Son Cured of Tuberculosis

Consumption is a flattering disease and the sufferer is filled with bright hopes of improvement. Call it by its own dread name—and then—take Eckman's Alterative, because it is effective in Tuberculosis. No one need doubt about it—there is plenty of evidence from live witnesses. Investigate the following:—

Amenia, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: Prior to Feb., 1908, I was located in Rochester, N. Y., suffering with LaGrippe, which developed into Tuberculosis. My physician gave me one month to live. I was having terrible night sweats and mid-day chills and losing flesh rapidly, having gone from 155 to 135 lbs. I coughed and raised continually and became so weak that walking a few feet exhausted me. On my return home, my regular physician gave me little encouragement. My father, who is a clergyman, heard of Eckman's Alterative and induced me to take it. The night sweats and chills disappeared, my cough became easier and gradually diminished and in a few days I developed an appetite, the first in months. I am now in perfect health, back to 155 lbs. I feel certain that I owe my life to Eckman's Alterative."

(Signed) E. H. COWLES,

"Gentlemen: I cannot find words to express my appreciation of what your remedy has done for my son. It changed despair into hope within two weeks after he began taking it, and without any doubt in my mind, it saved his life.

"I wish to add my endorsement to every word of his testimonial."

(Signed) REV. J. J. COWLES.
Pastor Presbyterian Church.

Eckman's Alterative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever; Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and

ROSSINI FAMOUS AS A WIT

Some of the Whimsicalities With Which the Great Composer Made Life Jollier.

Rossini's witticisms bubbled forth at all times and under all circumstances, says Musical Opinion. On one occasion a gentleman called upon him to enlist his aid in procuring for him an engagement at the opera. He was a drummer and had taken the precaution to bring his instrument. Rossini said he would hear him "play," and it was agreed that he should show off in the overture to "Semiramide."

Now, the very first bar of the overture contained a tremolo for the drum, and when this had been performed the player marked, "Now I have a rest of 78 bars—these, of course, I will skip." This was too good a chance to be lost. "O, no," said the composer, "by all means count the 78 bars; I particularly want to hear those." Rossini's whimsicality extended even to his birthday. Having been born on February 29, in leap year, he had, of course, a birthday once in four years, and when he was seventy-two he facetiously invited his friends to celebrate his eighteenth birthday.

The late Sir Arthur Sullivan made his acquaintance in Paris. One morning, when Sullivan called to see him, he found him trying over a small piece of music. "What is that?" asked Sullivan. "It's my dog's birthday," replied, very seriously, "and I write a little piece for him every year."

When Rossini was once rehearsing one of his operas in a small theater in Italy he noticed that the horn was out of tune. "Who is that playing the horn in such an unholy way?" he demanded. "It is I," said a tremulous voice. "Ah, it is you, is it? Well, go right home." It was his own father!

London the Greatest Market.

London is the world's greatest market for tea and ivory, said Mr. J. G. Broodbank of the Port Authority at the Society of Arts, a few days ago. Each year 120,000 tons of tea and the product of 20,000 elephants reached London. Forty million sheep's fleeces pass through the dock annually. In the warehouse 100,000,000 cigars are stored, and in another 2,500,000 gallons of rum.

SLEPT SIX WEEKS

When the strange case of the Iowa woman who had slept constantly for 43 days was reported, many people who could not sleep at all wished that they might have a similar experience.

You would be surprised to know how many people there are right around here who hardly ever get more than two or three hours' sleep at night, owing to bad health, general weakness and worn-out condition. Miss Louisa Ludwig, Newark, N. J., who went through all this has written a letter saying:

"Having felt weak, tired and badly rundown, with little appetite, and inability to sleep well, I began to take Vinol which I had heard was the best remedy for that condition. It has done me great good by buiding up my strength, improving my appetite and enabling me to sleep soundly."

If you are worn out and weak and want new strength so you can eat well, sleep well, and be well, Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy is what you need, and we guarantee it to satisfy you. Piper Bros., Druggists, Charleroi, Pa.

To Probe Disaster

Investigations Begun for Placing Blame for Boat Collision

Investigation has been started for the purpose of placing the blame for the collision between the government launch Wenona and the steamer James Moren, in which the launch was sunk and James W. Dickey, an engineer was drowned at Davis Island lock. The crew of the James Moren made a statement yesterday. It is said that the towboat was under a half head of steam pushing a string of empties up stream. The pilot claims he saw the Wenana start out, stop suddenly and begin backing. He claims that when the launch was about 10 feet from the tow, three sharp whistles were sounded and that he signalled to shut off the power of the big tow boat, which was done.

CHARGE IS GIVEN TO NEW PASTOR

Rev. John R. Burson Installed at Washington Avenue Presbyterian

REV. HARRIS PRESIDES

Vows were taken by pastor and people to stand by each other and help each other Thursday evening when Rev. John R. Burson, late of the Old Concord Presbyterian church was installed pastor of the Washington Avenue Chuch. The rites of instllation were impressive. Dr. John Royal Harris, of the Shady Avenue Presbyterian church of Pittsburg was the presiding officer and master of ceremonies, and he propounded the necessary questions to both pastor and congregation.

Rev. John T. Hackett, pastor of the First Presbyterian church of Charleroi delivered the charge to the pastor. On behalf of the Pittsburg Presbytery, of which Rev. Burson was becoming a member he told him to "be constant in season and out of season," and to try to please God rather than the people. He said he believed it was the pastor's duty to reprove and rebuke when his congregation or members of his congregation had gone astray. In concluding his charge he tendered Rev. Burson a hearty welcome here.

Rev. W. F. McKee, pastor of the Monongahela Presbyterian church, gave the charge to the people. He advised the congregation to regard the pastor as a man and a human being. "Don't expect too much of him," he concluded. "Do not compliment unwisely. Talk up among your townspeople and among the congregation and what is fully as important, pay him up."

Rev. J. E. Garvin, pastor of the Herron Avenue Presbyterian church of Pittsburg preached the sermon of installation, taking as his theme "The Transformed Life." He treated the

MONONGAHELA RIVER POLLUTED WITH ACID

Government Man Finds This River the Worst Among Ten in State

According to Col. Thomas P. Roberts, a government engineer and assistant to Col. H. C. Newcomer, as superintendent of navigation along the Monongahela river the last named river is the worst among ten rivers of the state with respect to acid conditions. He ctates that 64 1-2 tons of free sulphuric acid passes a certain point in the Monongahela a day. The larger quantity of this comes from mine drainage but mills along the stream added their quoto to the whole. Into 10 of the leading rivers of the State there are 970,000 tons of sulphuric acid discharged a year.

It has been suggested that an effort be made to neutralize the acid by the use of lime or some other cheaper neutralizing agent, but it is not believed that this would be effective, and the cost would be great. Opinions on the matter were brought out at a meeting of engineers at Pittsburg on Tuesday. It is hoped that the time is not far distant when some method of saving the waste acid for use as a by-product can be put into use. It is this acid that is killing the fish and doing so much injury to steam boilers and water pipes where the river water is used.

MORE RAIN AT PHILADELPHIA SPOILS GAME

There is more idleness among the New York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics at Philadelphia today, owing to a long continued rain. Matthewson and Bender were picked for today's battle and a hot engagement was anticipated. This couple will probably oppose each other the next game. It is whispered among followers of the game that the rain was a god send to the New York team, whose sole dependence and hopes rest practically rest on Matthewson.

SIR WALTER RALEIGH ACT IS OUTDONE

Future Greats Chivalrous to Extreme Despite General Perverseness of Humans

American hustle and the general perverseness of the big, wicked world has gone far towards degenerating mankind, and the younger generation for instance those of a High School age—are showing more marks of degenration than their fathers. But in the case of the said High School youths the extreme of politeness was attained this morning, when the chivalrous young financiers, capitalists and politicians of the future made a tour of the town and collected the books of those of the weaker sex who daily wend their way to the Fifth street institution of learning, and toted them up the hill. Either the teachers or somebody else had informed those future greats that they were uterly lacking in the fine essentials of politeness. Hence the Sir Walter Raleigh performances.

PITT READY FOR HOT STRUGGLE WITH INDIANS

The University of Pittsburg football team, which last year made the remarkable record of scoring 268 points against apponents in nine games without having a single point scored against it, has emerged from the two minor games in splendid trim and is now ready for the season's hard battles. The first of these comes Saturday when the famous Carlisle Indians are played at Forbes Field. The kick-off will be at 3 o'clock. The university athletic management is arranging to accomodate 10,000 spectators at this game, as the Redman, noted as the trickiest exponents of the gridiron game in the country, always are a big attraction in the Steel City.

The Indians did not play the University of Pittsburg last year but in 1909 they were defeated by the Blue and Gold 17—3 in one of the most spectacular battles ever played at Forbes Field. This was the start of Pott's climb to the front of college football circles. Since then, the local teams has been credited with some wonderful performances, ending up with the glorious 11—0 victory over Penn State last Thanksgiving Day.

Although Pittsburg lost five men by graduation, the new material this year is very classy and all the holes have been filled up satisfactorily.

"Tillie" Dewar of California regarded as one of her products, is a mainstay of the University of Pittsburg team at quarter-back. Another player who is known here is Wagner, the big fullback. Many faces on the University of Pittsburg team are familiar to local people, who constitute a band of loyal supporters to the Pittsburg team.

TWO COMPANIES SEEKING FRANCHISES FOR LINES

Monongahela Agitated Over Move Made by Rival Concerns

PROPOSITIONS HEARD

Ordinances Sought Through City--Bentleyville to be an Objective Point

Monongahela is somewhat agitated over the street car fine franchise proposition, which is a public question there just now. Two lines, the Monongahela, Ellsworth & Washington company, and the Pittsburg, Monongahela & Washington Street Railway company, are asking for rights of way through the town for proposed lines up Pigeon creek. For a part of the route the lines would be practically parallel, as far as Bentleyville, but after that point is reached the former company divergees on its route to Washington by way of Scenery Hill, while the other goes by way of Ellsworth and Marianna to the county seat.

Both propositions are considered favorably by the people of Monongahela, and both came before select council Thursday night asking for franchise ordinances. The Monongahela, Ellsworth & Washington company's ordinance had already passed common council and was passed by select council Thursday night. The Pittsburg, Monongahela & Washington Street Railway company's proposition, however, was referred back to the ordinance committee with instructions to prepare a proper ordinance and report back to council, which wil probably be done at the meeting on November 14.

At different times these companies have had franchises which have been permitted to lapse, but as both now offer to guarantee the construction of the lines if they are granted franchises, the disposition of the people is to have council tie them up so that they will be liable and grant them the franchise. This is the teritory which it is hoped the Westside Electric Street Railway company of Charleroi will soon invade, and if it is done the other lines to Washington will afford excellent connections.

Rally Held by League

Methodist Episcopal Women Hear Talks by Visiting Church Workers

The Women's League of the Methodist Episcopal church held a rally Thursday afternoon in the lecture room of the church. A large proportion of the members were present Mrs. I. T. Daniel rendered two vocal solos and Mrs. J. H. Miller, wife of the district superintendent of the Washington district, Pitsburg conference, made a talk. Dr. Miller also made an address. A social hour at which time refreshments were served concluded the affair.

During the year ending September 30, the League has paid on the Building Fund $60 and Thursday it voted to pay $100 more. In the evening Dr. Miller preached an eloquent sermon to a good audience on the topic: "Prosperity of the Church." After the sermon the first quarterly conference was held Reports showed that the financial condition of the church was very encouraging. During the last conference year which was just closed, nearly $500 was given to benevolent objects and $1,100 was placed in the building fund.

COAL ASSESSMENTS.

In its efforts to create campaign thunder for the purpose of trying to defeat the Republican ticket at the November election, the Washington Observer lays stress on assessments of the coal holdings in the county, which it declares to be too low in proportion to the assessments of other property, particularly houses and lots and farms. The Observer would make it appear that rank discrimination had been made in favor of large corporate holdings to the detriment and burden of the small property owner. By comparing the assessment per acre of coal lands with their potential value, the Observer seems to make it appear that the big concern is getting off with a light taxation while the small property owner is being mulct.

In assessing big holdings of coal lands which have been bought for future use and conservation by industrial corporations, a middle ground is usually adopted in determining values between "what is, and what may be in the future." The value of coal lands to certain individuals is determined by its potentiality, rather than its present worth. Big prices are paid now for coal holdings in certain locations, along the river front for example, not so much for what the coal is worth now as what it will be in the future, when the operator is ready to use it. As it is now it is if lying idle an unproductive, worth absolutely nothing to the holder, as he is not getting any production from it. The chances are that it is a burden, as in all likelihood the holder is paying interest on the money used to purchase it, while the property itself lies unproductive.

If this were taxed up to its potential value, which determined the purchase price, the chances are that it would not be purchased at all and industries that hope to increase their operations could not prepare for future developments. The original holder could not afford to hold it either, and the result would be in the direction of what Henry George hoped to achieve by his single tax theory—to tax land to its full value, so high that the holder would have to throw it back to the State if he could not make it productive. As there are too many coal mines now in operation and many of them losing money, the private holder of a hundred acre tract of unsold coal taxed to the limit of its potential value, would prove a burden he could not carry, as he could not mine and sell his coal where there is not sufficient market for all that is now mined.

While the law literally specifies that property shall be assessed at its full value, the latter term is capable of a wide interpretation. A piece of property may have a high value to one person, a low value to another, and none at all to still others. A rational middle ground has to be chosen, which is done everywhere. In doing this many errors are no doubt made, the same as in every other material operation in existence. With a low assessment the tax levying powers cannot spend so much money as they could with a high assessment which in view of the judgment ordinarily exercised in this respect is better public policy than going the limit the other way.

GOOD PUBLIC POLICY

Should Governor John K. Tener see fit to call an extra session of the Legislature for the purpose of enacting certain measures, there are good and sufficient reasons for doing so. These reasons are many, but the chief one is that something constructive is usually accomplished at a special session, whereas the bulk of the time of the regular session is frittered away with very little beneficial results in proportion to the time and money expended. The special session in 1906 in Governor Pennypacker's administration, was productive of more constructive legislation than had been enacted in a decade or more previously.

In a special session called for a certain purpose, the onus is upon the Legislators if the object fails. They are directly responsible to the people and accountable for the expenditure. They are there to act in but one way, and if they fail, they go on record as opposed to public policy. In the regular session it is different. Most of the Legislators go there to make a personal record, and to trade and bock in order to attain their ends. The result is that very little is accomplished for the people. The special session is the only way to get a needed public measure through quickly, and if Governor Tener sees fit to call a special session to achieve a needed public end, he has full warrant to do so, and is performing a public service besides.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

"You notice that none of the first-class films of moving pictures ever show death scenes in accidents," said Harry Barnhart of the Palace Theatre, in speaking of the character of the pictures put out by the best manufacturers in that line. "Of course they all make sensational and melodramic scenes, but care is now being taken not to present anything that will teach or instruct the audience in vicous ways.

"If you take notice you will see that the best pictures now do not give lessons in burglary. If a picture is presented in which a burglar figures the picture does not show how he effected an entrance. For instance, the burglar may be shown aproaching a window, and then the scene changes suddenly and shows him inside. This is done to avoid inspiring boys or any one else in the audience to make similar attempts because of the apparent ease in which such things are done in pictures. Real death scenes are also carefully eliminated, where a moving picture camera happens to catch an accident in which people are killed, in an automobile race or an aeroplane flight.

"There has been a marked improvement right along in the character of the photoplays by the best makers of films, and the standard is constantly improving. Formerly efforts were made to cater to the morbid curiosity of people and all sorts of gruesome scenes were presented such as hangings, torture scenes and other harrowing experiences. Now the tendency is to present clean, wholesome plays, which of course attracts the better element of people."

A traveling man at one of the local hotels the other night tells how he once got broke while out on the road for a prominent Pittsburg wholesale house.

"I was the 'cub' drummer of the house," he said. "and every one there thought it their bounden duty to 'kid' me or pull one over on me whenever they could. In my dilemma I telegraphed to the manager this message:

"'Expense money all gone. How shall I act?'

'Back came this mesage, which I afterwards learned was sent by one of the younger assistants:

"'Act as if you were broke.'"

A BALD-HEADED WOMAD

Shorn of Her Crown of Beauty, Loses in Love and Marriage.

Hair is certainly most necessary to women. Who could love and marry a bald-headed woman? What charms could one array to offset such a disfigurement?

A woman's goal is usually love and marriage. Her crowning glory is her hair. The loss of her hair mars her beauty, happiness and success. Yet right here in Charleroi there are thousands of women who are neglecting or injuring their hair to such an extent that it is only a matter of time when it will be utterly ruined.

Many women destroy the beauty of their hair through thoughtlessness or ignorance of certain facts. They use curling irons over-heated or to excess which destroys the natural oil of the hair, causing it to split, break and come out. They do not shampoo their hair often enough or too often. They use soaps or preparations which contain ingredients positively harmful to the scalp and hair.

As a result of such treatment, dandruff is created, the hair loosens, loses color, falls out, and baldness commences, unless proper and prompt precautions are taken in time. Then again, microbes and certain diseases bring about unhealthy scalp and hair conditions.

Almost any woman may rid herself of dandruff and diseased scalp and hair if she will but use the right remedy. We have that remedy and we will positively guarantee that it will either cure dandruff and baldness or it will not cost the user anything.

That's a pretty broad statement, but we will back it and prove it with our own money. We will return your money if you do not find that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is an entirely satisfactory remedy that will promote hair growth and overcome scalp and hair troubles, that it will grow hair even on bald heads, unless all life in the hair roots has been extinguished, the follicles closed, and the scalp is glazed and shiny. It gets its name from the fact that it grew hair in 92 out of 100 cases, where it received a thoroughly hard, impartial and practical test.

We want you to try Rexall "93" Hair Tonic at our risk. You surely cannot lose anything by doing so, while you have everything to gain. You had better think this over, and then come in and see us about this offer. You will be well repaid for your visit to our store. Remember, you can get Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store. Carroll's Drug Store, 623 Fallowfield avenue, Charleroi.

LIVERY STABLE STOCK IN VENICE!

IF a man of ordinary intelligence were approached by an affable stranger and urged to buy stock in a livery stable in Venice, he would in all likelihood feel insulted. He would have reason to be, for such an offer would be a reflection on his intelligence.

It is along lines like this that some business men advertise.

For instance: A clothier has a line of suits near the end of the season that he desires to close out. He advertises them at a sharp reduction. Compared with what he paid for them and what he sold them for at the opening of the season, they are a bargain. The public does not want the suits at that particular time at any price, and the clothier, not getting the results, makes a deduction that advertising doesn't pay, and ceases to advertise.

In the meantime the big department store in the nearest city is flooding the newspapers with cuts and descriptions of nifty ties, collars, marked down shirts that are good at any time, seasonable underwear at special prices that is needed to fill in between times.

The local dealer is disappointed because people won't buy stock in a livery stable in Venice; and loses the sale of other stocks that might be practicable.

The department store in the city gets the trade because it knows that the ordinary person has no use for something he does not need at that particular time.

The business man who never gets advertising to produce results are the Micawbers of trade—always waiting for something to turn up. The man who knows how to advertise, and tries to sell the people something they want, WHEN THEY WANT IT and not to unload what he doesn't want—turns something up.

PARIS LIKES WHITE CANARY

New Songbird Is Most Popular in the Gay Capital and Fetches High Price.

The Parisian has an amiable little weakness for the canary. Every street echoes to the song of this noisy bird, and in the holiday time, when families are away, there are concierges whose more or less restricted quarters are positively cumbered with cages of canaries left in their charge by absent tenants.

But in or out of the season the bird market is held every Sunday in the year in the City Island and a lively trade in canaries is always done. The best songsters in the market come from an old house close by the market, where lives an ornithologist who spends his life in teaching canaries to sing, and he has now, after some years of effort, produced a pure white canary with a song as powerful and sweet as any yellow or green bird ever sold.

The supply of the white canary being at present strictly limited, those that were sold last Sunday fetched comparatively high prices; but they had all the honors of the day, and for the few hours that they adorned the stall they were the center of an admiring and wondering crowd. There are plenty of canaries that are nearly white, but this bird is as white as a dove, without any speck of yellow on the plumage.

The Parisian has his own special way of transporting his canaries to the cage that awaits them at his home. The bird is placed in a small paper bag and pinned to the lapel of his coat.—Paris Correspondence London Standard.

Materially Inclined.

There is no landscape in the world that is agreeable after two days of rusty bacon and slack biscuit. "How lovely this would be," exclaimed the professor, "if it had a background of beefsteak and coffee!"—Charles Dudley Warner.

Critical Sense.

"That youngest son of Bliggins seems to have the making of a true musician in him." "Does he sing or play?" "No. But he cries piteously when Bliggins tries to."

Clergyman's Son Cured of Tuberculosis

Consumption is a flattering disease and the sufferer is filled with bright hopes of improvement. Call it by its own dread name—and then—take Eckman's Alterative, because it is effective in Tuberculosis. No one need doubt about it—there is plenty of evidence from live witnesses. Investigate the following:—

Amenia, N. Y.

"Gentlemen: Prior to Feb., 1908, I was located in Rochester, N. Y., suffering with LaGrippe, which developed into Tuberculosis. My physician gave me one month to live. I was having terrible night sweats and mid-day chills and losing flesh rapidly, having gone from 155 to 135 lbs. I coughed and raised continually and became so weak that walking a few feet exhausted me. On my return home, my regular physician gave me little encouragement. My father, who is a clergyman, heard of Eckman's Alterative and induced me to take it. The night sweats and chills disappeared, my cough became easier and gradually diminished and in a few days I developed an appetite, the first in months. I am now in perfect health, back to 155 lbs. I feel certain that I owe my life to Eckman's Alterative."

(Signed) E. H. COWLES,

"Gentlemen: I cannot find words to express my appreciation of what your remedy has done for my son. It changed despair into hope within two weeks after he began taking it, and without any doubt in my mind, it saved his life.

"I wish to add my endorsement to every word of his testimonial."

Some of the Whimsicalities With Which the Great Composer Made Life Jollier.

Rossini's witticisms bubbled forth at all times and under all circumstances, says Musical Opinion. On one occasion a gentleman called upon him to enlist his aid in procuring for him an engagement at the opera. He was a drummer and had taken the precaution to bring his instrument. Rossini said he would hear him "play," and it was agreed that he should show off in the overture to "Semiramide."

Now, the very first bar of the overture contained a tremolo for the drum, and when this had been performed the player remarked, "Now I have a rest of 78 bars—these, of course, I will skip." This was too good a chance to be lost. "O, no," said the composer, "by all means count the 78 bars; I particularly want to hear those." Rossini's whimsicality extended even to his birthday. Having been born on February 29, in leap year, he had, of course, a birthday once in four years, and when he was seventy-two he facetiously invited his friends to celebrate his eighteenth birthday.

The late Sir Arthur Sullivan made his acquaintance in Paris. One morning, when Sullivan called to see him, he found him trying over a small piece of music. "What is that?" asked Sullivan. "It's my dog's birthday," replied, very seriously, "and I write a little piece for him every year."

When Rossini was once rehearsing one of his operas in a small theater in Italy he noticed that the horn was out of tune. "Who is that playing the horn in such an unholy way?" he demanded. "It is I," said a tremulous voice. "Ah, it is you, is it? Well, go right home." It was his own father!

Not So Bad as That.

This little boy was making his first struggle with natural history. Observing for the first time a very fluffy, silky spaniel, he remarked: "Some dogs have feathers, and other dogs just skin."

Friendly Confidences.

"What did my ma say to you when you came in?" inquired Johnny of his friend who had come to tea. "She said she was very pleased to see me." "I'm glad," said Johnny in a relieved tone. "'Cos she said this morning she hoped you wouldn't come."—Stray Stories.

At Your Peril.

An accident insurance company has placed in the elevators of several office buildings the following notice: "This elevator is limited to fourteen persons. All over that number riding on this car do so at their own risk."—New York Sun.

Relative Prominence.

"That distinguished guest made quite an impression in your community during his brief visit." "Yes," replied Farmer Corntossel; "there were moments when he seemed nigh as important as the chairman of the reception committee."

Land Without Trees.

Thorshaven, the capital city of the Faroe islands, is said to be absolutely treeless. The claim is made that for some reason, perhaps soil conditions, trees absolutely refuse to grow there.

Only Man Can Adapt Himself.

While men in all parts of the world make their homes in exceptionally hot or cold places and move from one to the other without any apparent physical discomfort, it is found that animals or plants which would flourish in one could not survive in the other.

London the Greatest Market.

London is the world's greatest market for tea and ivory, said Mr. J. G. Broodbank of the Port Authority at the Society of Arts, a few days ago. Each year 120,000 tons of tea and the product of 20,000 elephants reached London. Forty million sheep's fleeces pass through the dock annually. In the warehouse 100,000,000 cigars are stored, and in another 2,500,000 gallons of rum.

SLEPT SIX WEEKS

When the strange case of the Iowa woman who had slept constantly for 43 days was reported, many people who could not sleep at all wished that they might have a similar experience.

You would be surprised to know how many people there are right around here who hardly ever get more than two or three hours' sleep at night, owing to bad health, general weakness and worn-out condition. Miss Louisa Ludwig, Newark, N. J., who went through all this has written a letter saying:

"Having felt weak, tired and badly rundown, with little appetite, and inability to sleep well, I began to take Vinol which I had heard was the best remedy for that condition. It has done me great good by building up my strength, improving my appetite and enabling me to sleep soundly."

If you are worn out and weak and want new strength so you can eat well, sleep well, and be well, Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy is what you need, and we guarantee it to satisfy you. Piper Bros., Druggists, Charleroi, Pa.
